Welcome

Staff and some of the young people at Redburn have put together this information. We hope this will give you an idea of what to expect when you arrive.

What is Redburn?

Redburn is a specialist adolescent mental health unit based in Prudhoe, Northumberland. Redburn has 10 beds, providing comprehensive assessment and treatment for young people between the ages of 13 and 18 with mental health and/or learning needs.

Redburn is part of a small hospital called Ferndene, which is made up of three wards and the Activities Resource Centre (the ARC). The hospital is open 24 hours a day and is staffed with trained nurses, support workers and a wide range of other health professionals.

Why do I need to be here?

A doctor has decided that it is the best place for you to offer support, assess your needs and provide any possible treatment. Staff at Redburn will support you to get the right treatment to help you.

How long will I be here?

Our aim is to ensure that you do not stay in hospital for longer than necessary and the whole team will work with you to ensure that your admission period is as short as possible.

What can I bring with me?

You can bring your own clothes and personal/activity items to the ward. You can bring certain items to make your hospital bedroom more homely. You will be able to wash and dry your own clothes. If you have not done this before we will help you learn these skills. Your clothes can also be taken home to wash if preferred. You will also need to bring your own toiletries.

If you do not have access to these things, we will be able to provide some for you. We also provide towels, just ask any of the staff on the ward and they will get some for you.

What should I not bring?

- Anything very expensive
- Pets (though they can visit)
- Anything that is not age appropriate

This is not a full list; ward staff will give you further advice about the other items not allowed. If you bring anything with you that isn't allowed on the ward, it will be kept safely in patient stores for you or can be returned to your parents/carers.

What will my room be like?

Everyone has their own bedroom with an attached shower room. There are also baths on the ward which you can access if you prefer. You can tidy your room during free time. Your shower room will be cleaned for you, domestic staff will do this daily.

Each bedroom has Oxevision. The Oxevision system checks your breathing and pulse without the need for someone to disturb you. If you would like more information, please ask staff for a copy of the Oxevision patient information leaflet.

Can I see my family?

The nursing team will support you to maintain contact with your family, carers and friends. We have plenty of space for visits along with the use of Keeping In Touch (KIT) computers where you can video call. Most young people will be able to have leave at some point, including overnight stays at home. If we are worried about your safety or the safety of others, you may need to be accompanied out of the unit with staff.

Who are the staff on Redburn?

The ward team is made up of nurses, nursing assistants, activity facilitators, and peer supporters. Each staff member will wear a different colour uniform depending on their role. Staff will be able to provide you with a key that explains these colours if that's something you'd find helpful.

Who else will be involved in my care?

During your time on Redburn, you will also be supported by the multidisciplinary team (often referred to as the MDT). This is a group of health professionals who each bring a different set of knowledge and skills to your care and treatment. The MDT will work with the ward team to plan and deliver your care and provide support in their areas of expertise. If you are already receiving support from a community team they will stay involved throughout your admission.

What will my day look like?

You will be given a weekly timetable, this will tell you which activities and therapeutic or educational sessions you are expected to attend. We can support you to continue your existing education or to help you develop new skills.

When will I eat?

There is a dining room on the ward. Meals are served at:

- Breakfast: 8.30 am (weekends are later)
- Lunch: 12 pm
- Tea-time: 5 pm
- Supper: 9 pm

There is more information about meals and how to order your meals in here is a QR code at the end of this booklet which will show you the Welcome Guide.

Getting your voice heard

Advocacy

Coram Voice

Tel: 0808 800 5792

Online: www.coramvoice.org.uk

While you are in hospital under the Mental Health Act, you can speak with an Independent Mental Health Advocate. The advocate does not work for the hospital but is there to make sure you know and understand your rights and to help you to tell people what you want to happen when they are making decisions for you. They will help you attend meetings if you want to and support you to make sure your voice is heard.

Peer support

On Redburn we have two Peer Supporters. A Peer Supporter is someone who uses their own lived experience of mental health to support others. We have been through some of things you might be going through right now and can understand some of what you might be feeling and thinking. We are based on the ward and are here if you need us. It may be that you just want to chat, play games, and do activities, or you may want to explore ideas that could help you. We are here to make sure your voice is heard and your views are listened to and we can support you to attend meetings about your care.

Your Voice

You can provide anonymous feedback about your care, treatment, and the ward environment by completing a 'Your Voice' card or online at www.yourvoice.cntw.nhs.uk

We asked our current young people what questions they had about Redburn when they first arrived:

Will I be able to go out or visit home?

That depends on your individual needs and what is agreed with your doctor. Most young people will be able to have leave at some point, including overnight stays at home. If we are concerned about your safety, you may need to be accompanied out of the unit with staff.

How much are my parents or carers involved?

Everyone is different. Staff may want to involve your parents or carers to help them understand you better. What you say to staff is confidential and will usually only be told to your parents with your permission.

What should I do if I need something?

There will be staff on the ward at all times who should be available if you need anything. If you can't find anyone and it is urgent, you can knock on the office door (you will be shown where this is when you arrive) or press the nurse call button in your room. If this feels intimidating, you could always pass us a note. We want you to feel as comfortable as possible.

Can I leave?

If you are here under the Mental Health Act, you may not be able to leave until doctors decide you are well enough. The Mental Health Act 1983 is designed to keep a young person who is experiencing serious mental distress safe. Your right to appeal this decision will be explained. If this is something you want to do, staff will help to guide you through the process or speak to your independent advocate.

Redburn's mutual expectations

Staff and young people have worked together to create this list of mutual expectations. We hope that everyone on Redburn, whether you are a young person or a member of staff, will try their best to follow these.

Patient Advice and Liaison Service (PALS)

PALS provide confidential advice and support, helping you to sort out any concerns that you may have about any aspect of your or your loved ones care.

We act independently when handling patient and family concerns, liaising with staff, managers and, where appropriate, relevant organisations, to negotiate prompt solutions. If necessary, we can also refer patients and families to specific local or national-based support agencies.
